Circumstances of the fatality or near fatality that indicate it was the result of abuse or neglect:

On March 22, 2013, the Department of Child Safety received a report regarding 10-month-old Dante Houck. The report stated Dante had died on October 29, 2012. An investigation was initiated and found that the mother, Heather Bissland, had left Dante unattended in an empty bathtub for over 17 hours without checking on him. The Medical Examiner ruled the manner and cause of death as "Undetermined," but stated severe undernourishment and probable dehydration were significant contributory factors. The Arizona Child Fatality Review Team, which includes at least one medical doctor, determined that Dante's death was due to neglect. In addition, the DCS investigation determined that Dante's death was a result of the mother's neglect based on her failure to provide him with adequate nutrition, fluids and supervision.
